JEREMIAH McGEACHY (2027): THE UNDERVALUED, TOOL-RICH MIDDLE INFIELDER WITH ELITE HITTING ABILITY AND GAME-CHANGING ATHLETICISM

By BoggsBaseball.com Staff Writer Ariel Lewis

January 2026

In the Class of 2027 and being a young Class of 2027 talent, it is rare to find a player who combines elite speed, big-league level strength, and high-end hitting ability while still being relatively under the radar. Yet that is exactly what makes Jeremiah McGeachy one of Georgia's most intriguing — and most undervalued — infield prospects.

At 6'0", 195 lbs, the Ellenwood, Georgia native brings a physical presence uncommon for his age. McGeachy's current ranking simply does not reflect the true talent, tool set, or upward trajectory he possesses.

He is under-ranked and massively undervalued — and the data proves it.

ELITE SPEED THAT CHANGES THE GAME

Few infielders in the country run like this.

6.55 60-yard dash

For a 195-pound athlete, these are special numbers. His burst, acceleration, and stride efficiency give him defensive range and offensive versatility that the rankings have yet to fully acknowledge.

Scout Comment:

"Guys his size do not run 6.55. That is SEC-level speed. He's one of the best athletes in the 2027 Georgia class."

THE BAT: ELITE HITTING ABILITY WITH SERIOUS POP (98 MPH EV)

McGeachy's hitting tools are easily among the best in his ranking tier — and arguably superior to many ranked significantly higher.

With a verified 98 mph exit velocity, he demonstrates:

- True power projection
- Advanced bat speed

- Strength through contact
- Loud, consistent barrel impact
- Ability to drive the ball with carry

His PG exit velocity history shows tremendous growth, signaling a hitter who is developing faster than most of his class. He already hits like a college-level bat.

Scout Comment:

"Jeremiah's pop is real. His bat speed and strength combination is elite for a middle infielder his age. His rankings are behind his tools."

★ MULTI-POSITION DEFENSIVE VALUE WITH AN 83 MPH ARM

An 83 mph infield arm at his age puts him near the top percentile of 2027 infielders. He can play:

- Shortstop: athletic enough to handle the left side
- Second Base: quick release & smooth footwork
- Third Base: strength, size, and arm power
- Center Field: versatility when needed

His defensive ceiling is far higher than his current ranking suggests.

Scout Comment:

"He's tool-rich defensively. The arm strength, foot speed, and glove actions all translate."

★ PRODUCTION MATCHES THE TOOLS — 1ST TEAM ALL-DISTRICT AS A SOPHOMORE

McGeachy isn't an "upside-only" player.

He's already performing against older competition.

At Stockbridge High School he earned:

🏆 1st Team All-District — Sophomore Season

This recognition proves his ability to translate tools into in-game impact — something the rankings often overlook.

---

★ WHY HE IS UNDERVALUED BY THE RANKINGS

Despite the exceptional measurable data, strong production, and rapid physical development, McGeachy remains ranked lower than his true ability level.

Reasons He Is Undervalued:

- His tools place him in the top-tier of 2027 athletes, yet his ranking suggests mid-tier status.
- His 6.55 speed is among the best in Georgia, regardless of position or class.
- His 98 mph exit velocity matches or exceeds players ranked much higher.
- His 83 mph infield arm gives him multi-position value that many rankings don't fully reward.
- His physical maturation and athletic progression have outpaced his early evaluations.

Simply put:

The rankings have not caught up to who Jeremiah is today.

---

★ THE COMPLETE PROSPECT PACKAGE

✓ Size: 6'0", 195 lbs — strong, athletic frame

✓ Speed: 6.55 (elite for any infielder)

✓ Power: 98 mph EV

✓ Arm: 83 mph INF

✓ Versatility: SS / 2B / 3B / CF

✓ Performance: All-District as a sophomore

✓ Trajectory: Rising rapidly

His athleticism, hitting ability, and raw tools place him well above his current ranking — and rising fast.

★ THE FUTURE: A MAJOR COLLEGE-LEVEL INFIELDER WITH PROJECTION BEYOND (POSSIBLE FUTURE MLB DRAFT IF HE KEEPS DEVELOPING)

College programs who evaluate tools instead of lists will love him:

- Speed for the middle infield
- Power that projects to the next level
- Arm strength that plays anywhere on the dirt
- Physicality and frame college coaches covet

His data profile already aligns with Division I recruiting standards, and if his development continues, he has the potential to draw future professional scouting attention.

Jeremiah McGeachy is not just under-ranked — he is one of the true sleepers in Georgia's 2027 class.

Those who evaluate him early will benefit the most.
